SABA-GA is hosting its first annual banquet to support the provision of needed legal services to the South Asian community.

This year's banquet will benefit Raksha, Inc., a non-profit organization that provides crisis intervention, counseling, referrals, legal advocacy, translation services and other support for the Georgia South Asian community. 100% of the banquet's proceeds will go directly to support Raksha's clients' access to legal services.

We are excited that Fulton County Solicitor General Carmen D. Smith will be our keynote speaker. Ms. Smith has been Fulton County's Solicitor General since 1996, and is a champion of victims of domestic violence.
